Lions Vote $500 To Band Project

The Hondo Lions club voted overwhelmingly Wednesday to make a cash donation of $500 toward a band fund for Hondo High School.

In doing so, the organization became the first Hondo civic group to pledge assistance to the project sponsored by the Hondo Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Jaycees announced last week that their annual football game, between the Hondo All Stars and the Southwest Texas Junior College Cowboys of Uvalde, would benefit a high school band. The game will be played at Hondo's Barry Field on Nov. 4.

The game was played last year to benefit a public library, and about $1,000 was taken in. The Jaycees hope to do better this season in that the game will be played on a Saturday night and because of the response which the last encounter received.

Other organizations which might want to pledge support to the band project have been asked to contact Pete Knowles, general chairman. Individual contributions will also be accepted by Knowles.

12 Blue Birds Graduated Into Camp Fire Group

Twelve members of the Tulip Blue Birds graduated into the Camp Fire Girls at a fly-up party given on the lawn at the home of Mrs. Bailey Rogers last Tuesday.

The group, dressed in full Blue Bird uniform, entered singing their marching song led by Mrs. Jerry Smith. Mrs. Smith gave a short review of the group's history for the two years of its organization. The girls were seated in a semi-circle around the table on which a centerpiece resembling a well was placed with "the old oaken bucket" hanging from it. Places were marked at the table by Camp Fire books, ties and slides.

Each girl told of her activities as Blue Birds. These included: Maryann Bailey, Camp Fire camp; Carol Dee Parsons, Alamo pilgrimage; Gradene Rogers, handicraft; Maxine Leinweber, cake sale; Jean Tate, cancer drive; Roxene Schweers, Daisy Blue Bird tea; Mary Elsie Heinlein, hike; Ethel May Thompson, picnic; Judy Nester, Frontier Times Museum; Joylene Tomerlin, poppy sale; Sarah Cox, visiting Blue Birds; and Joylene Tilley, cook-out at Bandera.

After saying the Blue Bird wish, the girls sang, "We Are Called The Blue Birds," and Joylene Tilley lighted the blue candle.

The Talihi Camp Fire Girls, in full uniform, and their leader, Mrs. Bob DePuy, assisted in the initiation ceremony. They removed the Blue Bird suspenders and blue ties, replacing them with the Camp Fire ties. Diplomas were

This Is Your Paper

Advertising Is Integral Part

By William R. Nelson

Advertising is as much a part of American newspapers as the paper upon which they are printed. Without advertising this newspaper would be a very different publication. Not only would it be less interesting, but it also would cost subscribers considerably more.

Advertising is commercial news. It is as valuable to readers as every other feature of a newspaper. It is so interesting, in fact, that there are papers in many cities devoted exclusively to advertising.

Important to People The commercial and professional announcements of this community's business' civic and professional people are important to all who live here. They are also timely cross-sections of the needs, interests, hopes and desires of the people of this locality.

In some communities there are those who apparently do not fully grasp the importance of the role advertising in the home town paper plays in their daily lives. There are merchants, for example, who seemingly do not realize that failure to acquaint people with their goods and services handicaps both the store and its customers.

Those who advertise in this or any other newspaper actually rent space in which to publish their own, generally commercial, news. The space is the property of the newspaper. That has been confirmed by court decisions upholding newspapers in their refusals to provide space for certain advertising uses.

Source of Revenue Space rented for advertising is the principal source of revenue to virtually all newspapers. Such revenue makes possible delivery of the paper to subscribers for less than the actual cost of the blank paper in each copy.

The use to which advertisers put the space they rent is of equal importance to the community as a

Clifford D. Sadler of Hondo entered the race for county superintendent of schools last week, and has prepared the following statement:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of superintendent of schools, in Medina County, and respectively ask for your help and support in the forthcoming November election.

My qualifications for the position are as follows: I was born at Big Foot, attended schools there, and was graduated from Devine High School. I received my Bachelor of Science degree from Texas A. & I. College at Kingsville, taught one year at Pearsall in the elementary grades, and then started the vocational agrculture department in Hondo High School, in 1935. Until 1942 I taught vocational agriculture in Hondo, and then went with the State Department of Education as a district supervisor of the out-of-school rural youth program. After about a year with the state, I was called upon to establish the vocational agriculture department at Uvalde High School, and I was employed there for three years. Since then I have been engaged in farming near Hondo, and have been teaching veteran's courses and coachng at St. Louis High School in Castroville.

I am married, and have two children, a boy eight years old, and a girl three years old. I have the best interests of Medina County school children at heart, and if elected, promise to administer my duties with fairness to all. I will appreciate your help in the forthcoming election.

Respectfully,

Clifford D. Sadler

PEANUTS SELL WELL ABOVE SUPPORT LEVEL

Prices for farmers' stock peanuts ranged from $25 to $45 per ton above support price in the southwest this week, the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration reported today.

Harvest of new crop peanuts gained momentum in South Texas while light digging got underway in East Texas.

Despite good demand, increased offerings of new crop peanuts found prices slightly weaker in the Southwest this week. Shelled No. 1 Spanish offerings for prompt shipment brought 18 to 18½ cents a pound.

Markets for peanut meal weakened, paralleling a general decline for other oilseed meals. However, crude peanut oil prices strengthened. Offerings of both were extremely light, with too few sales to quote prices.

College Explains Control Of Moss

Sodium arsenite spray will give good control of moss and other underwater growth in farm fish ponds, says R. E. Callender, extension wildlife conservation specialist of Texas A. & M. College.

County Agent J. W. Stufflebeme Jr., Washington county reports to Callender that the Albert Seeker Lake, located near Brenham, was treated with sodium arsenite for moss control on April 1. A heavy infestation of moss had developed in the lake and prevented the excellent fishing which lake club members had previously enjoyed.

Ten gallons of four-pound strength sodium arsenite were applied to the 1.6 acre lake which contained approximately 320,000 cubic feet of water. This rate of application was about one gallon of sodium arsenite of 32,000 cubic feet of water.

The spray is usually mixed at the rate of one gallon of sodium arsenite in an equal amount of pond water; however, more water can be used if desired. It was applied to the surface of the lake with a three gallon compressed air type sprayer. The surface of the lake was completely covered with the poison, and extremely heavy moss areas were sprayed several times.

The top growth of the moss was killed within 48 hours, Stufflebeme says, and within a week the underwater moss changed color. Regular checks of the lake revealed that it was completely free of moss and other underwater growth on April 18.

Stufflebeme says that the lake is now in excellent condition, and that it was cleared up at a cost of approximately $10.00 Two applications of the spray may be necessary, according to Callender, if complete control of vegetation is desired.

The result of the application of sodium arsenite to the Albert Seeker Lake corresponds with the degree of control obtained from spraying the Sommerfeld Lake, also in Washington county, in May, 1949.

Washington county farmers and sportsmen, Stufflebeme says, have recently shown a great deal of interest in fish pond management. Among the lakes which were treated for moss control this spring were the Brenham Gun and Rod Club Lake and the Alvin Weidner Lake in the Long Point Community.

Callender warns that the lake or pond should be measured very carefully and its contents figured before using sodium arsenite. Too heavy an application can prove fatal to the fish. He recommends that the local county agent be contacted before a control program in a lake or pond is started.

A complete outline of the steps involved in controlling pond weeds and moss with sodium arsenite can be obtained by writing to R. E. Callender, Wildlife Conservation Specialist, Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A. & M. College, and asking for FARM POND SERIES MS-5.

Korea Censorship

GENERAL MacARTHUR'S banning of newspapermen from Korea emphasized what the American public probably has not realized—namely that there has been virtual censorship over American newsmen in Japan for some time. Unlike news out of Germany, which has not been censored, MacArthur has constantly rowed with American newsmen over their right to report what was going on in his area.

One of the men who was at first barred from the Korean front last week, Tom Lambert of the Associated Press, previously had signed a long protest to the American Society of Newspaper Editors complaining of MacArthur's censorship. Others signing the report included representatives of the New York Times, National Broadcasting Company, Time and Life magazines.

They pointed out, among other things, that a newsman "who had written stories which occupation officials considered critical . . . had his home raided by the army's CID and that he—the correspondent—was subjected to interrogation and threats."

They also pointed out that whereas "the government section (of the occupation forces) actively encouraged correspondents to expose misappropriations of Japanese military supplies, G-1 and G-2, which had classified information relating to the matter, took exception to the resulting stories and efforts of reprisal were taken against at least one correspondent."

"Stories on the purge," the censorship protest continued, "including many facts supplied by G-2, caused their authors to be branded personally by General MacArthur as among the 'most dangerous men in Japan.'"

Capital News Capsules

NO MORE POLITICKING—President Truman has now junked plans for a whistle-stop campaign this fall. He was scheduled to go to California, stopping to help various Democratic candidates en route, but the war crisis has changed everything. The President will now stay close to Washington, will make almost no trips unless the war situation vastly improves.

WAR POWERS—Senators Taft and Bridges have made independent surveys to see exactly what war powers the White House has left. These surveys indicate that Truman still has the power to allocate scarce raw materials, such as rubber and steel; so Republicans plan to go over Truman's request for war powers with a fine-tooth comb. They will grant him more powers, but only after considerable debate and a lot of nagging.

HIDDEN RUSSIAN NAVY—It is now learned that Russia has a much larger navy than we ever suspected. The surface ships have been hidden in the Black Sea, while the subs are chiefly in the South Pacific and Baltic. The thing that worries U.S. war chiefs most is that a Russian sub might sink an American troop ship — which would be another sinking of the Maine and mean world war.

TRUMAN'S PUBLIC RELATIONS—White House advisers admit privately that the President's public relations are extremely bad. Some people blame this on Press Secretary Charlie Ross, but those in the know realize that it is chiefly the President himself. Even after being carefully coached, he is apt to make off-the-cuff statements which have unfortunate reverberations. When he announced the Korean decision, Truman missed a great opportunity to go before the public with a fireside chat explaining the real issues. His failure to do this has led to mediocre morale on the home front and growing isolation in some quarters. He is now trying to make up for this omission.

Take Profits Out of War

Long before the President's message to congress, farsighted Senator Lester Hunt of Wyoming had helped draft 56 emergency laws providing for every type of control conceivable. These were drafted by a subcommittee under Senator Hunt, and were to be rushed through congress at the drop of the first Russian bomb.

Despite this network of war controls, however, nothing has been done about the basic problem of taking the profits out of war.

For years, wise old Bernard Baruch has been urging the control of war profits. If you conscript men's lives, Baruch has argued, you must also conscript such less valuable commodities as factories, raw materials, and profits.

However, congress did not act prior to World War II, and so far there is no proposed law ready for the statute books which would conscript profits in case of World War III.

Garden Ceremony Unites Miss Graff, W. L. Richter

To Make Home Here In Hondo

In a garden wedding at the home of her parents, Miss Frances Graff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Graff, became the bride of Wilfred L. Richter of Floresville, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Richter of that city. Rev. Constantino read the double ring rites at 7:30 in the evening, Sunday, Aug. 20.

The bride entered on the arm of her father through on archway leading to the garden where an improvised altar of an ivy-entwined trellis adorned with gladioli, was placed. Hurricane lamps were used on each side of the altar.

The bride's gown of white organdy was designed with fitted bodice and flaring skirt. The sleeves were short and fully gathered, and she wore short length mitts of the same white organdy. Her only ornament was a double strand of pearls, and she carried a prayer book topped with a white orchid.

Miss Tutta Graff, the bride's cousin, served as her maid of honor. Her dress of blue organdy was of the same design as the bride's and she carried a colonial bouquet of yellow mums adorned with yellow streamers. A sister of the bride, Miss Barbara Graff, was bridesmaid and her gown and bouquet were of identical design as the maid of honor's.

The mother of the bride chose to wear navy crepe with an orchid corsage. Mrs. Richter wore black crepe and her corsage was also an orchid.

Curtis Ray and LeRoy Ullmann, both of Floresville, served as best man and groomsmen, respectively. Bobby Graff and Bobby Nester served as ushers.

An arrangement of white asters flanked by hurricane lamps formed the centerpiece of the lace covered serving table used at the reception which immediately followed the marriage rites. The cake, a white confection decorated with blue and yellow sugar-spun flowers, was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Miss Frances Westfall served the cake. Frozen pineapple punch was served by Miss Evelyn Breiten.

Seventy-five guests registered in the bride's book which was presided over by Miss Elsie Ziegenbalg.

The bride, a graduate of Hondo High School, has been employed for some time at the Hondo Electric Service Company and plans to continue her work. The groom is employed by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company in Hondo, and the couple plans to be at home here following a wedding trip through the western United States.

You are hereby commanded to appear before the Honorable District Court of Medina County at the Court House thereof, in Hondo, Texas, at or before 10 o'clock A. M. of the first Monday next after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 9 day of October A. D. 1950, then and there to answer Plaintiff's Petition filed in said Court, on the 22nd day of August A. D. 1950, in this cause, numbered 4431 on the docket of said court and styled E. L. Kelley, Plaintiff, vs. Isaac E. Robinson et al, Defendants; said Defendants being those persons who are first named in this citation and to whom it is directed.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to wit: Suit to quiet title and remove cloud from the title to the following described tract of land situated in Medina County, Texas, to-wit: 255 acres of land, more or less, out of Survey No. 445, R. Roman, being fully described by metes and bounds in Plaintiff's petition. Plaintiff in said petition represents to the Court that he is legally seised and possessed of said tract of land, holding and owning the same in fee simple. In addition to his fee simple title, Plaintiff claims title to said land by reason of the Statutes of Limitation of Five, Ten and Twenty-five Years. Plaintiff alleges that Defendants assert certain claims and rights in and to the said land through certain deeds and other instruments found in the Deed Records of Medina County, Texas, the exact nature of which claims are unknown to Plaintiff; and Plaintiff gives notice to each of said Defendants to answer herein and set up and plead before this court the claims and rights asserted by them in and to said land. Plaintiff prays judgment for said tract of land perfecting his title thereto and removing cloud therefrom, and prays that Plaintiff be quieted in his right, title and possession in and to said land, and for general and special relief; as is more fully shown by Plaintiff's Petition on file in this suit.

The officer executing this process shall promptly execute the same according to law, and make due return as the law directs.

Issued and given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Hondo, Texas this the 22nd day of August A. D. 1950.

Highway 90 Playoffs To Begin On Sept. 3

Playoffs for the Highway 90 League will begin on Sunday, Sept. 3, with the first and second place teams, Hondo and D'Hanis, to meet the third and fourth place clubs.

At present, Rio Medina and Castroville are tied for third and fourth places. Rio will make up a rained-out game with Sabinal Sunday, and Castroville will meet Quihi. If the teams are still tied after these games, they will play in Castroville on Saturday, Sept. 2.

Decisions regarding the playoffs were made at a meeting in Hondo Wednesday night. The League also decided to buy two trophies for not more than $35 and to allow players' wives or dates to attend playoff games without charge.

Admission for the playoffs was set at 50 cents for adults, and 25 cents for children. Proceeds from the games will be divided 55 per cent to the winner, 35 per cent to the loser, and 10 per cent to the League.

A report by the secretary revealed that the League now has a balance of $200.98 in the treasury with umpires unpaid for this month.

Bicycle Reflectors Given Free By Club

Children owning bicycles can get reflectors for them, just for the asking as a result of the Business and Professional Women's anti-jaywalking drive Saturday.

The B&PW netted $27 in fines from persons jaywalking on Hondo's main streets, and this money will be used to purchase the reflectors.

Bicycle owners may obtain certificates between now and Oct. 1 from Mrs. Millie Eckhart which will enable them to secure a free reflector.

PUBLIC PROBLEM

Public awareness of the increasing needs of our schools to take care of the greater enrollments is one of the most pressing problems of this period. Parents are urged to take an active part in studying the needs of our school systems.

New Superintendent And Wife

Alvin Robinson, new superintendent at Yancey, and Mrs. Robinson, a member of the faculty, are working on their masters' degrees at Southwest Texas State Teachers College in San Marcos this summer.

He taught the past four years at Knippa, while Mrs. Robinson was there for five years.

TEXAS' SCHOOL SYSTEM WILL BE EVEN BETTER DURING 1950-1951

Texas' already vastly improved public school system will be on an even higher level during the 1950-51 school year it was predicted in Austin this week.

More classroom facilities and more and better trained teachers will be available, it was pointed out by L. P. Sturgeon, state associate commissioner of education.

Under the new Gilmer-Aikin laws which went into effect last fall the teaching staff was increased by 2,000 and more than half of the school districts of the state added to their classroom facilities.

An additional 1,500 teachers will be hired for the next school year, Sturgeon said. A survey disclosed many more schools will increase their facilities, Sturgeon also said.

Increase in pay for teachers has added to their morale and made the profession far more attractive to young people, Sturgeon pointed out. More young people are preparing for careers as teachers and these better trained instructors will be available in larger numbers next year to replace retiring instructors and those less adequately trained, according to Sturgeon.

School districts which met the requirements of state law in order to receive additional financial aid from the state had a teacher for every twenty-five pupils in average daily attendance during the last school year, but many districts were forced to put pupils on a half-time basis.

"This will be partly alleviated during the 1950-51 school year by the construction of more classrooms and the availability of more teachers," Sturgeon said.

"This will add to the great benefits derived by a great many of our school children in the last school term through their being in smaller classes, where they could get more personal attention.

"During the 1948-49 school year a survey conducted by the Texas State Teachers Association disclosed that more than half of the classrooms in the entire state were badly over-crowded. Sturgeon also had high praise for the state's teachers.

"While the pay increases under the Gilmer-Aikin laws averaged only $500 for teachers, their morale is at the highest in the history of Texas," he said.

"I can see that in their interest in and their attendance of professional meetings I have attended throughout the entire state.

"Superintendents are almost unanimous in their reports of the willingness of teachers to accept additional assignments and to participate in extra-curricular activities.

"Teachers are satisfied and are proud of their profession That means better education for our children in rooms presided over by well-trained instructors. It is only reasonable that happy, efficient teachers can do far more in imparting knowledge than dissatisfied, inefficient persons.

Increased enrollment in courses leading to degrees in education in the state's colleges was also pointed to by Sturgeon as an indication of the attractiveness of the teaching profession in Texas schools now, with its resulting benefits to the children.

Fit Important In Boy's Wear

The way is open through design of clothes for the growing school boy, for parents to assure him the comfort and freedom of action so necessary to the happy active youngster, and also provide room for his rapid growth, by seeing to it that his new clothes are carefully fitted. It's a budget wise, as well as comfort wise, precaution made possible by the clothing manufacturers.

The growing school boy's clothes should never fit too snugly. They give best results for action and warmth if they are fitted on the loose side. This is especially important for outer garments to allow room for bulky shirts and sweaters.

An excellent way to determine the freedom of action in a garment is to have the youngster stretch, bend and swing his arms when he is trying on new clothes.

Many manufacturers of boys' wear are insuring the lasting qualities of their garments by inserting special grow - with - the - boy, and reinforcing features.

In some instances there is extra material at the hem and sleeves of overcoats that can be let out to keep pace with the youngster's rapid growth. Trousers are made with double enforced knees and elastic waistbands for easy give. Invisible taping at the neckline, armhole, bottom and cuffs of jackets help prevent sagging and stretching.

Shirts have collars that look neatly starched but do not require its addition during the laundering process.

When Spelling Becomes Fun

MODERN WAY TO LEARNING for reven the youngest is the portable typewriter which helps teach not only spelling but neatness by making it fun. Inexpensive and yet sturdy models featuring "family keyboards" that make the machine useful in the home and for scholars of all ages, are now available in office supply stores.

Wide Choice Of Fashions Will Help Sister Through Her Awkward Stage

Look to the new fashions now being designed to help mask the bony elbows, bumpy knees and protruding tummy miseries of the nine-to-twelve year old grammar school girl's awkward stage.

When choosing her back-to-school fashions, select blouses and dresses with well-fitted bodices and simple necklines. These styles do away with the fussiness that so often point up pre-teen awkwardness.

Avoid undue bulkiness on skirts and jumpers by choosing styles with softly gathered waistlines and flared or pleated skirts that flow down gracefully over young hips and stomachs to hemlines that just cover the knees.

Fabric can also play an important part in giving pre-teen fashions a more graceful grown-up look. The best fabrics for these styles are those with a firm body, neither too bulky nor too fragile and fussy such as rayon gabardine, worsted and faille.

With these back - to - school clothing selection pointers in mind, mother will perform an unforgettable good deed by sparing her sensitive pre-teener the painful self-consciousness of obvious pre-adolescent awkwardness.

Shop Early For Back To School

The earlier parents shop for the things their children are going to need to be ready to go back to school, the better will be their opportunity to choose wisely and economically and the surer they will be that their children will return to classes well fitted and fully equipped.

This is the advice of local merchants who have made more extensive preparations than ever before in preparing to serve the expanded back-to-school requirements of this community.

Their collaboration in the city-wide move to assist parents in preparing the children for the beginning of the semester will be apparent in the display advertisements featured in this special section.

Smart Girl

CLOTHES CARE REPAYS the school girl who will always look smart and neat if she brushes her wools carefully after each wearing and hangs them in her closet with sufficient space between articles to avoid friction and pull on style lines. Proper hangers for coats and skirts help preserve shape.

Confidence Needed In Starting School

"It is very important that the child who is going to school for the first time," says Adele Franklin, co-author with Agnes Benedict of "The Happy Home," "have a proper rapport between himself and his parents so that he doesn't feel mother is trying to get rid of him when she sends him off to school."

The same, of course, applies to little girls who are going to school for the first time.

In some instances, when the beginner finds the change particularly difficult, Miss Franklin suggests that mother not only accompany the child to school but that she also remain in class with him for a short time.

This will help him to gain confidence. His mother's presence will make him feel his position is safe and secure. Her departure is not abrupt, but is taken smoothly.

"One way not to treat the child just beginning school," warns Miss Franklin, "is to constantly pressure him about reading and writing."

"Remember," she cautions, "that although reading and writing are important, the child may not be ready for reading when he first enters school. His muscles or eyesight may not be sufficiently developed."

Miss Franklin believes that personality development needs greater emphasis than reading and writing in these early years. Children learn through their muscles and sense impressions are also an important factor in the early learning processes.

NOT TOO SOFT

A smooth, not too hard and not too soft mattress helps assure sound sleeping in preparation for the active school days ahead.

AND WHAT ABOUT TEACHER . . . . . ?

Give a thought to the problems of teacher during this coming school season when enrollments are expected to reach unprecedented peaks.

Parents who fret about the problems of caring for one or two or three youngsters at home should remember that teacher may have an overcrowded room-ful of thirty five to fifty children and sometimes more.

Parents and teachers can both understand each others problems better by becoming acquainted through their P.-T.A. groups.

MOTORISTS URGED TO MAKE STREETS SAFE FOR CHILDREN

With the greatest number of motor vehicles in the history of this community and the nation, now rolling over streets and highways, and with more children going back to school this Fall than ever before, traffic authorities have issued a special plea to drivers to be on the alert for the safety of youngsters.

Though school patrols have done magnificent work in helping to protect children from traffic hazards near schools, this is not enough. Neither is sound practice on the part of the motorist to depend on a warning horn to keep children from darting thoughtlessly in front of his car.

No matter how well trained the child may be, or how carefully guarded near schools and playgrounds, his preoccupation with play and his immaturity of experience may cause him to stray from the paths of safety without thinking.

Must Be Alert

It is in the residential areas of the city, and on country roads where children sometime walk home from schools, that the car or truck driver must be especially alert after schools open for the season.

Thoughtful motor vehicle operators who are conscious of the irresponsibility of younger school children, and concerned about their welfare, will go farther than the exercise of simple caution in driving.

They will make it a point to see to it that their cars and trucks are in tip-top mechanical condition before schools open for the season.

Common Causes

As everyone knows, tragic accidents have occurred because somebody's car horn didn't work at the crucial moment. Other common accidents result from obscure vision caused by a faulty windshield wiper.

Life and broken limbs are the toll taken by brakes that don't hold when an emergency arises, or by tires which fail to grip the road because treads are worn down.

Traffic authorities urge motorists to have their cars checked, to make sure brakes are working properly, and that tires have safe treads. Time to check windshield wipers is in good weather. With shorter days as the Fall school season proceeds, lights should be checked also.

With his car conditioned for perfect, split second performance, suggests the AAA, there should be no let up in caution.

Don't Bank on Light

Just because the corner is protected by a traffic light and maybe also by a school safety patrol, is no guarantee that some lads tusseling at the edge of the sidewalk won't tumble out into the street; or that some boy or girl, fearful of missing the school bus, might not come rushing across an intersection without looking.

With his car conditioned for perfect split second performance, the thoughful driver will slow down near schools and in residential sections, and will use an extra bit of caution during the back to school season.

PEAK YET TO COME

Full effect of the boom in the national birthrate is not anticipated as far as schools are concerned for another year or two. With the number of children per family sharply rising the grade school peak is yet to come.

GLIMPSES AT THINGS THAT HAVE PASSED

Shortly after merging The Anvil and The Herald as The Anvil Herald, and while still housed in a space of about 20x20 feet in the rear of that part of the building now occupied by the Plaza Bar (The two-story addition had not then been constructed), a young man traveling for a concern that manufactured and installed creamery plants came to Hondo trying to interest the community in promoting such an enterprise.

Somewhat dispirited over the indifference he had found to his proposition, he dropped into the printshop, apparently to unload his peeve at the public on the local printer.

He was there and then told of the proposition still open at Castroville; and figuring that the purpose of a creamery being to "manufacture" butter his offer of a "factory" should meet the terms of the will.

He lost no time in getting over

Foreign Policy Is Logical Issue

In many sections of the nation, a red-hot political campaign will be waged in the next two months before the General Election on Nov. 7. Texas, like the other states of the Solid South, will watch from the sidelines.

But in the states in which a two-party system is practiced, Democratic and Republican candidates for Congress will be exchanging words and ideas which might well establish the theme of the 1952 presidental campaign.

Despite criticism that foreign policy should be kept out of the fight for fear that it might endanger our bi-partisan status, the administration's handling of Far Eastern affairs in general and the Korean situation in particular will doubtless be one of the most bitterly-debated issues.

In view of the manner in which our nation handled its foreign affairs — or failed to — discussion of our international policies seems a logical and legitimate issue. If our diplomats and the State Department bungled a ticklish situation, the American people are entitled to hear the facts and decide whether or not they want more of the same during the next two years. If our defense chiefs and espionage agents fell down on the job, enabling the communists to pull the rug out from under us in Korea, the American people should know about it.

Approval or rejection of American foreign policy during the past few years is just as important as the way our domestic policies have been formulated — if not more so.

IT'S TIME for BROOKS!

Because...

Something must be done now about the runaway cost of our state government — a cost which has increased more than 500 percent in the period between 1935 and 1950. Aside from the cost of World War II, the cost of the Federal government did not increase that much during the same period.

With the State plunging wildly towards a financial crisis, the Lt. Governorship is a business rather than a political office. It needs a business man with a business viewpoint.

Only by the election of a business man can the people of Texas be assured of a direct and vigorous attack on this runaway cost, useless waste, and needless extravagance in our State government.

Only a business man who has not been a part of the system which spawned this era of waste and extravagance can give the problem that searching inquiry and impartial analysis needed now. Pierce Brooks is that man.

The next Lt. Governor of Texas should be above any internal friction, beyond all cross currents of politics, and completely judicial when clashes of personalities arise among members of the Senate. He must be in a position to treat them all alike, to be fair to each, and also to be true to his obligations to the people. Pierce Brooks meets these tests.

Pierce Brooks is the only candidate completely free from the entangling alliances, political obligations, cliques, clans and groups which grow up when men stay in office too long.

The Lt. Governor to be elected in 1950 should not come from the confused atmosphere of the State government, but direct from the people with a program for the people. Pierce Brooks is such a man.

In these crucial times the next Lieutenant Governor should be answerable to the people of the State and not to any group of special interests that has made millions of dollars off the taxpayers.

Pierce Brooks for Lt. Governor

Check Preparation Tips To Ease Kitchen Duties

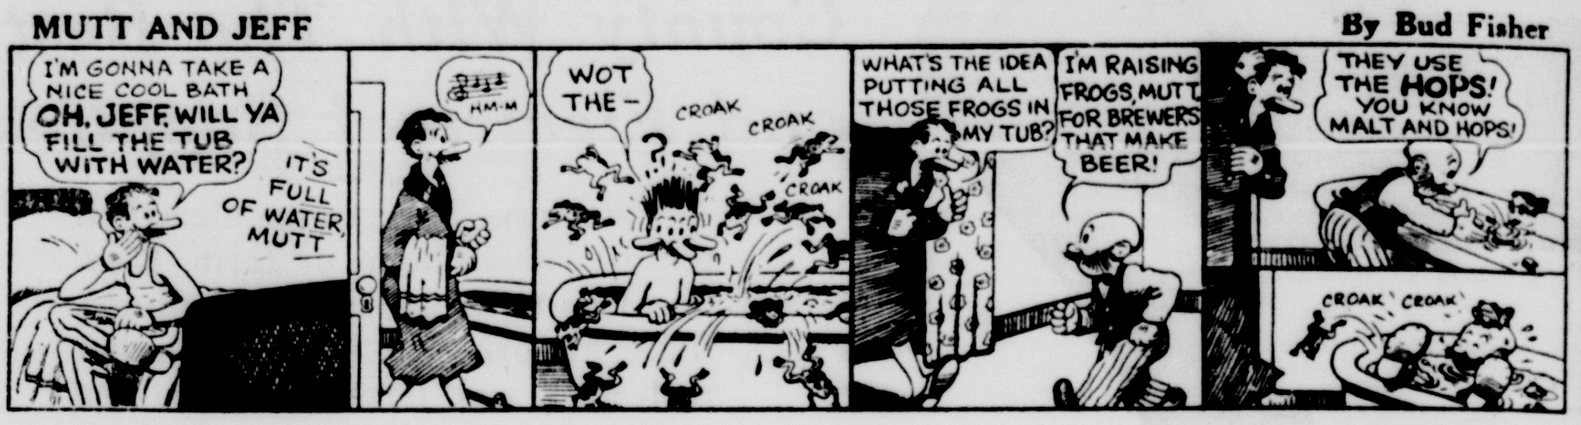

Fish scales can be removed easily if you pour hot, salted water over the fish and let stand until the scales curl. Then scrape rapidly. Wash fish in cold, salted water.

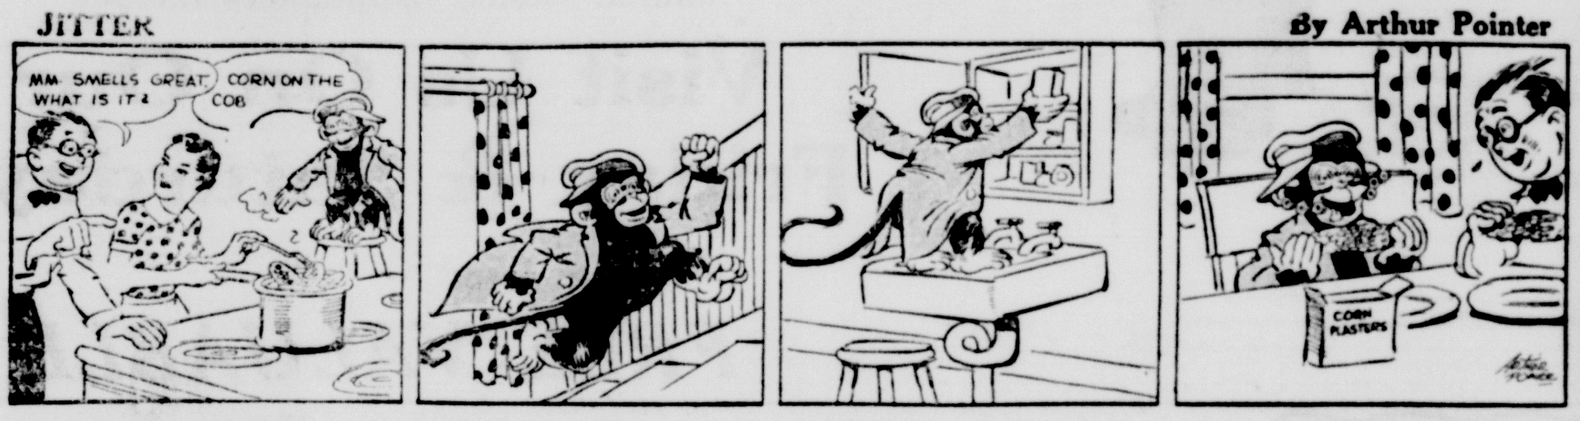

Bake leftover waffle batter and freeze the waffles in the coldest part of the refrigerator. Wrap tightly to prevent drying. When ready to use, pop in the toaster and they'll come out delicious and crisp as when freshly baked.

Evaporated milk is easy to chill for whipping if you pour the milk, undiluted, of course, into a freezing tray and allow to chill until fine ice crystals start to form around the edges of the pan.

When serving bacon in large quantity, bake it for easy preparation. Lay strips with fat edges overlapping on a rack in a shallow pan. Bake on top shelf, with oven set at 400° F. for 12 to 15 minutes. This needs no turning and no draining. Bacon will brown evenly with no curling.

Business Leader With Great War Record Tells How Hadacol Has Rebuilt Him Physically

Was run-down, weak, after service in South Pacific due to deficiencies of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Iron and Niacin

Mr. Donald Hedburg, who resides at 1812 Parker in the fashionable Riverside District of Wichita, Kansas, has been an up-and-coming executive member of the staff of the great Wichita Eagle newspaper for over four years.

Mr. Hedburg has an enviable record of combat with the U. S. Army in the South Pacific in World War II. He is very active in civic affairs. And just as he was anxious to pitch in and do a job during the war—he now wants to help his fellow citizens who (like he was once), are physically run-down and weak due to lack of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Iron and Niacin in their systems.

Here is Donald W. Hedburg's witnessed statement: "When I returned from service, I faced the problem of rebuilding myself physically. I was in a general run-down condition.

"In my present capacity of advertising salesman for Kansas' greatest newspaper, The Wichita Eagle, it's absolutely necessary that I have plenty of vitality—'get up and go.' I had real cause to worry. Nothing seemed to rebuild me constitutionally. Then a friend of mine on the national staff told me about HADACOL—he asked me to try at least five bottles. I'm on my fourth bottle and already I feel like my old self. I look forward to a day's work and go home—play with the children—work in the yard—fish until midnight! Thanks again to HADACOL, energy and vitality once again course through every fiber of my body. You bet, I too, am now a missionary for this great new HADACOL."

Get That Wonderful HADACOL Feeling Everyone is Talking About

HADACOL gives such wonderful results because it not only supplies deficient, weak run-down systems with more than their daily needs of important Vitamins B_1, B_2, Iron, and Niacin—but also helpful amounts of precious Calcium, Phosphorus and Manganese — elements so vital to help maintain good health and physical fitness.

If you are a victim of neuritis pains, certain stomach and nervous disturbances, constipation, insomnia or a weak, run-down condition due to such deficiencies, HADACOL will start you on the road to feeling better often within a few days. Thousands upon thousands of records of grateful men, women and children proved this to be so.

Many Doctors Recommend It

HADACOL is recommended by many doctors not only to their patients but to members of their own families who have such deficiencies. Before giving up hope—you owe it to yourself to at least give HADACOL a chance to help you. Why keep dragging yourself around feeling "half-alive" when it's so easy to have that wonderful HADACOL feeling that everyone is talking about! Trial-size bottle, only $1.25. Large family or hospital size, $3.50. Refuse substitutes.

So THIS is NEW YORK

BY NORTH CALLAHAN

Just happened to be out at LaGuardia Field when a plane came in which, I soon learned, held some resemblance to Noah's Ark. The cargo, some of it almost human, originated in West Africa and was bound for the Cleveland, Ohio zoo. Chief among the passengers were four gorillas, making the total gorilla population in this country now 27, I learned. One of the gorillas was only three months old and was treated with as much care as a human baby on the way over. Also in this aerial ark were a leopard, a cheetah, nine horned vipers, nine gaboon vipers and thirty-five monkeys. Somebody said the pilot made fast time on the way over because he was afraid to look back.

Years ago, Broadway came up to the only spot where you could get off of Manhattan without a boat — and that was a shallow place in the Harlem River where one could ford the stream at low tide. At high tide, the waters of the Hudson and East Rivers rushed together. According to the legend, Peter Stuyvesant's trumpeter was swimming the stream at this swirling point one stormy night "in spite of the devil," was seized and carried under by Satan in the form of a horse mackerel. Since then, this section of the river is called Spuyten Duyvil.

In New York there is a drug store which sells live leeches for black eyes. It is owned by Joe Callipo who told me that he still has a number of customers who use this ancient remedy of removing the blood from the affected part, that some also use the leeches for high blood pressure and varicose veins. Joe sells the leeches for 75 cents each, keeps them in a jar of water and never feeds them. Evidently they just live off the water, he said. The druggist gets them from persons who wade into shallow streams and catch them after they have stuck on to their bare legs.

BENTSEN Reports From Washington

WASHINGTON — Too often public officials talk economy — but they don't vote economy.

Just like the House did on the Postmaster General's order rescinding mail deliveries in cities to one per day and other readjustments of postal activities. He ordered mail deliveries cut on July 1, 1950. He showed it would save a debt-loaded nation about 70 million a year. His was one of the rare cases where a department head had the courage to stand up against political pressure to demand efficiency and to promote economy. His move followed much talking on the part of the Congress about saving money.

A bill was introduced in Congress to throw out the PM's order. After talking economy, the majority of the members of the House voted for the bill, against the postmaster general's economy order.

NO SERVICE IMPAIRED

The PM said he didn't consider his service curtailment order of April 17 took any essential service from postal patrons. He further explained that an average of 85 percent of all mail is — and always has been — delivered on the first trip to residential areas.

As far as business districts are concerned, there's been no reduction on delivery there other than the elimination of one trip on Saturdays. To keep the record straight, it must be remembered that the postal service now serves the business districts three times a day, and, in addition to this service, serves the residential areas once a day. Prior to curtailment, residential areas were served twice a day. So residential areas now are on the same basis as the rural areas. There, residents have always had only one delivery a day.

There were those who said we had to have two mail deliveries a day because of the present emergency. Yet, during World War II 75 percent of the residents had only one delivery a day at one period or another because of the shortage of man power — and we didn't hear a word of complaint or criticism.

70 MILLIONS SAVED

The PM has assured us he could save 70 millions on this move and not curtail any essential service. Yet, he said, within 48 hours after the order was published in the Postal Bulletin, a campaign was started by the national officer of one postal group to defeat the economy program. Here's the quotation from his letter.

"The dissemination of these misrepresentations through bulletins and on the radios, was evidently calculated to mislead the public into believing that their postal service would be seriously impaired. It was urged that the public make complaints to members of Congress . . . .

"As a result of this, resolutions were introduced in the House to require the Postmaster to revoke this order and to restore the postal service to its status prior to the issuance of this order. Most or all of these resolutions were introduced before the service changes had been made in the larger postoffices throughout the country."

TAXPAYERS' RELIEF

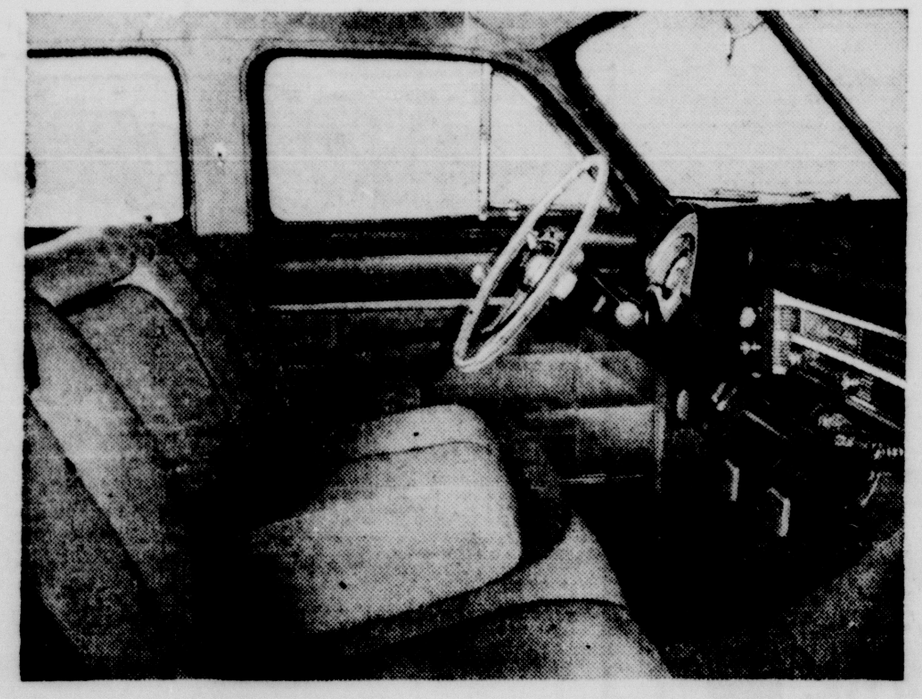

This Congressman feels in a time like this, when this country is faced with a most serious international crisis, it is necessary that we mobilize our man power, resources and wealth to bring a speedy conclusion to the war in Korea. That this necessitates additional economy and efficiency in the executive branch of the government. The post office department was operated at a deficit of over 550 million dollars for the fiscal year of 1949. Your Congressman feels we should do all we can to grant relief to the taxpayers, called upon to make up from general taxation the difference between the revenue and the expenses of the post office department. Because of the Postmaster General's order cutting residential mail delivery to one per day, for the first time in modern history the post office department contemplates reducing the number of employees on its rolls. Your Congressman believes the Postmaster General's order is a sound one, a fair order, an order for economy and a break for the taxpayer. Your Congressman is fully aware he will be attacked by the national officers of a postal group on his vote for economy and efficiency in the department. But this will not be the first time lobbies have attacked your Congressman for his votes and he doesn't expect it to be the last. Adios.

to Castroville and contacting the executor of the Paul will, Dr. FitzSimon.

The result was that an Association was formed, a building erected, a plant installed and the manufacture of butter begun in a very short time.

The Association was on a co-operative basis with the farmer members agreeing to furnish milk; a local boy, Jack J. Droitcourt, was trained to operate the plant; and it started off and operated for some time quite successfully, supplying the farmers with a market for their milk and the grocery trade with a wholesome food product.

Like too many co-operatives, however, dissension arose among the co-operators and soon there was more confusion than co-operation among them.

It seems the dissension originated from the fact that some of the more progressive members introduced improved milk strains into their herds while some continued to milk their common range cattle.

As the milk was paid for according to its percentage of butter-fat content under the Babcock test, the milkers of the range cows soon found themselves receiving far less pay for the same quantity by measure than were those who were marketing milk from improved butter-producing cows.

To them, so much milk was just so much, and because they didn't receive pay according to liquid quantity and not according to butter content, they started trouble which resulted in the shutting down of the plant, and production was never resumed, the plant deterioated, and so far as we are informed, was later junked.

Instead of the property reverting to the city when no longer utilized according to the terms of the will, it was disposed of to a private owner, Mr. John Tragesser, who converted the creamery building into a residence and the extensive grounds into an amusement park.

After some years the property passed to other ownership and its use as a park was discontinued.

In the meantime, and while the property was still in the care of the administrators of the will, Dr. FitzSimon, out of respect for the memory of those who had dwelt so long thereon and who slept beneath its surface, employed Mr. Eugene Halbardier to gather a quantity of native stone that had accumulated on the premises and construct a massive and rugged mausoleum completely covering the four graves that were located near the center of the grounds.

Some time after the property had passed into private ownership, these rocks were displaced and removed, and the last time we sought the location of the graves we could not find mark or sign of them or the buildings that once had been near them.

In so short a time every reminder had disappeared and it is doubtful if there is a living soul who can locate the exact spot where the departed repose.

Such is our regard for the memory of those who pioneered before us.

Though Dr. Hoffmann was a Pennsylvanian, coming to Texas only 15 years before the outbreak of the Civil War in 1861, and Judge Paul was an Englishman, both men left documentary proof of their loyalty to the Confederacy.

That Dr. Hoffmann enjoyed the confidence of those acting by authority of those in power under the Confederacy is evidenced by the well-preserved original Commission issued to him which we here with copy in full:

Just what if any actual service Dr. Hoffmann rendered the Confederacy is not available as a matter of record, but here we have the evidence of his having been entrusted with the authority and accepted the duty if it devolved upon him.

And speaking of documents and what they prove, the most priceless one is missing from the collection we are here discussing, and it is possible that this writer is the only living person who actually knows of its having existed; and should any one by possible chance have it, the heirs would appreciate its return to them.

The writer never saw it but once and was attracted to it while Dr. FitzSimon was handling the Judge Paul papers in our presence while he was managing the estate.

The document was a brief letter in the handwriting of Jefferson Davis and signed by him with his full name; written in Richmond, Virginia, while he was President of the Confederate States of America; was addressed to Governor Frank R. Lubbock, Austin, Texas, and was written in appreciation and commendation of the men of Hood's Texas Brigade for the valor they had shown on the battle-fields of Virginia.

How did it come into the possesion of Judge Paul?

Frank R. Lubbock was the wartime Governor of Texas from Nov. 7, 1861, to Nov. 5, 1863, and Judge Paul, then a young man, was the Governor's private secretary, a position of great responsibility and entailing the utmost confidence on the one hand and integrity on the other.

It was characteristic of the man that despite all the turmoil and the confusion of the times, he sensed the historical value of the document and preserved it through his later years as a cherished possession.

Characteristic of the man's thoughtfulness and foresight, we recall on one occasion in the dry summer of 1896, while walking down a street with him in Castroville and indulging in random conversation, he stopped, and waving his hand northward towards the source of the Medina river, remarked:

"Fletcher, some day there will be a dam constructed up among those hills and enough water stored to irrigate all this valley and make of it a veritable garden!"

That was some fourteen years before Dr. Pearson set in motion the project that resulted in the construction of the Medina dam and its irrigation system.

With all his vision, however, we can think of him as having only seen the waters of the Medina spread over its own valley; it is doubtful if he ever visualized the taking of the water from the bottom of the river-flow, conveying it along the meanderings of a chain of hills, gradually ascending the side of that range for a distance of some 35 miles and finally carrying it over the summit and emptying the water out of the Medina basin into that of the Frio, where it irrigates the headlands of another drainage area.

But such is the more than realization of an old man's dream as he visualized it to the mind's eye of this "boy" on that dry, hot day, long ago!

NOT FEAR OF BOMB, BUT SHADE MAKES FARMING APPEAR USELESS

Editor's note: The Seco Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm is telling the truth about himself, at least, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editar:

I was sittin around the store yesterday afternoon with a bunch of farmers waitin for a cloud to move over in front of the sun so I could go home, never did believe in bein uncomfortable if all it took to avoid it was a little time, and one of the farmers said he was worried about the world situation and the prospects of Russia droppin atom bombs on this country.

"I tell you, things is serious," he said. "It makes a man stop and think. What if I get out here and plow my land and get it in shape and plant next year's crop and get up and they drop a atom bomb and wreck civilization. All that work gone to waste. I tell you, I just don't know whether to figure on makin another crop or not."

Personally, I can't see it that way. That is, I ain't never been so hard-pressed for a excuse I had to fall back on the atom bomb to keep from plowin.

There are some folks who sit back in awe of them scientists who perfected the bomb, but it ain't affected me that way. It ain't never been necessary for me to depend on a scientist, a college professor, or anybody else to get out of plowin. It ain't fear of the atom bomb that makes me prefer to sit under a tree to goin up one row and down another. It's the shade.

Ever since I can remember, some new invention has always been goin to change the courses of human events, but it never does work out that way. Your newspaper ain't got no more in it whether I'm readin it under a light bulb or a kerosene lantern. A young man with a light-weight set of brains is about the same whether he's holding the lines or the steering wheel.

The atom bomb ain't changed my way of life a bit and I don't intend to let it, not by worryin about it at any rate. Some folks can throw up their hands in horror and give up farmin, but I am proud to say I'm ahead of them scientists and wasn't plowin much before the bomb and expect to keep right on in the same path.

Yours faithfully
J.A.
